They had their two canoes and traps so close to the Indians and when little provisions on they had left and started on foot down the lake. The snow was about a foot deep, and made it very hard to travel. As they walked on with good courage and most of the day near noon they were overtaken by a party of Indians, who, instead of being friendly, as they were at first, they were now very hostile. They began to throw stones at them, and they were obliged to stop. They were then surrounded by a large party of Indians, who were very angry with them. They were then taken to a large house, where they were kept for some time. They were then taken to a large house, where they were kept for some time. They were then taken to a large house, where they were kept for some time.

Importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood we cannot enjoy good health. In seasons nearly every one needs a medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood. It is peculiar in that it cleanses and builds up the system, creates energy, and tones the digestion, while it does not displace the blood. HOOPE'S SARSAPARILLA is sold by all druggists, by C. L. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

This image shows a vertical strip of a document page. On the left side, there is a dark, textured binding edge, possibly made of wood or heavy paper, which appears worn and aged. To the right of this edge is a lighter, off-white or cream-colored surface. This surface has some faint, dark spots and a slightly mottled texture, suggesting it might be old paper or parchment. The overall appearance is that of a narrow, vertical section of a larger document, possibly a page from an old book or a fragment of a scroll.
